STATE FISH FOR STREAMS OF VICINITY

60,000 Fingerlings to be Sent Here; May Get Hatchery

Flowing streams of this vicinity are to be restocked with game fish this spring, according to a message received by President Louis Knick of the Dixon chapter of the Izaak Walton League last evening from Judge William L. Leech, chairman of the local chapter's committee on propagation and stocking, who spent the day in Springfield with William J. Stratton, director of the Department of Fish and Game. Judge Leech was accompanied by Fred Kersten, Frank Schoenholz and G. C. Goodspeed, members of the Dixon chapter, who have been interested in the restocking of creeks in this vicinity.

The state department, according to the message, will send a carload of 60,000 fingerlings to Dixon about the middle of April. The small fish will be placed in streams designated by the propagation and stocking committee of the Izaak Walton League chapter. The shipment will consist of bass of several varieties, crappies, blue and sun fish. In requesting the commitment of fingerlings, the committee sought to stock both Franklin and Pine creeks as well as placing some of the small fish in Chao's lake near West Brooklyn.

May Get Hatchery. Director Stratton and other officers of the department of fish and game will accompany the state fish car to this city and spend a day here looking over conditions along Rock river in this vicinity. With the receipt of the news of the commitment of fingerlings to Lee county waters, residents here are hopeful that a state fish hatchery may be located here.

This was one of the important activities outlined by the chapter a few weeks ago and the committee now in charge is endeavoring to secure a site for a hatchery in favor of the location of such an institution here. Director Stratton and members of his department will inspect sites that have been considered by the local chapter as being ideal for the purpose of locating fish hatcheries.

Director Stratton was much impressed by the matter as presented to him and the arguments in favor of establishing a hatchery at Dixon. Judge Leech's message stated: "Access to Rock river, natural sand and gravel beds, and shipping facilities in all directions appealed to the department head at once."

BALLOONIST LOST CONSCIOUSNESS AT HEIGHT OF 5 MILES

Regained Senses With Bag Crashing Downward Speedily

Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., March 10—(AP)—Capt. H. C. Gray, army balloonist, yesterday went through the harrowing experience of using his bunched fingers to "disengage" and "bags" in an effort to check the swift descent of his balloon in which he made an unsuccessful attempt to break the free balloon altitude record yesterday.

The flight of five miles was good, Captain Gray said. He lost consciousness at this height and failed to recover until the balloon descended to about 17,000 feet. The height to which he ascended will be known after calibration of several instruments by the department of standards at Washington.

The flight brought out a need for better oxygen apparatus and a more expeditious method of disposing of ballast. Upon regaining consciousness, the balloonist found his craft descending at the rate of 1,200 feet per minute. Dizzy from lack of oxygen and intense cold, he succeeded in tearing away enough ballast to slow his descent to about 600 feet per minute. At this rate his balloon crashed through telephone wires near Ashley, Illinois, and the balloonist emerged with only a sprained ankle.

Miller Asked to Lecture Before Clinton P. T. A.

The fame of the lecture, "A Little Boy Who Failed," delivered recently by Co. Supt. L. V. Miller of this city before the Parent-Teachers Association at Thomson, is spreading. So much praise of the address was heard in Clinton, Ia., that the P. T. A. of the Jefferson School of that city has invited Prof. Miller to give his address there on Thursday, March 17, an invitation which the popular and efficient local school executive has accepted.

Small's Accounting Suit Postponed Until March 16

Springfield, Ill., March 10—(AP)—Resumption of the accounting in the civil suit brought against Governor Len Small set for today, was continued until March 16, it was announced today, due to the absence from the city of Master-in-Chancery Briggs.

WINNEBAGO COUNTY "ORDERS" LEE COUNTY TO PAY PAUPER CLAIM OF FORMER DIXONITE

Coolidge Invited to Make Illinois His Vacation Home

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—An invitation to President Coolidge to spend his summer vacation in Illinois was telegraphed to Washington last night by Governor Len Small.

"Here," said the Governor, "you will find yourself in the heart of the nation and will be taken to the hearts of our people."

TRAINING COURSE FOR SCOUT WORKER IS ARRANGED

Will be Held in Dixon for Four Weeks Prospects Good

Free training courses for prospective leaders of the Boy Scout work in the newly merged Blackhawk Area will be started within a fortnight. Scout Executive Geo. C. Dreisbach, who will take personal charge of the work in Lee, Ogle and Winnebago counties, announced today that the plans had been made to start these free training courses in Rochelle, Dixon and Oregon.

The Dixon school, which will be held in the American Legion hall, will be held Tuesday evening, beginning March 22, at 7:30 o'clock, and a session will be held each Tuesday evening for four weeks. The school will be for junior assistants, up to 16 years of age, and scout masters and assistants up to the age of 21. The only expense will be forty cents for the scout manual, and all who aspire to aid in active scout work are welcome. The attendees will be organized in scout troops under the direction of Mr. Dreisbach, and local doctors, pastors and teachers will furnish the necessary assistance. The Dixon course will be for Dixon, Polo, Forreston, E. Jordan and Amboy, and it is announced that instruction for patrol leaders will be given each Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Legion hall.

Simultaneously schools will be conducted at Rochelle for Rochelle, Kings, Ashton, Creston and Paw Paw, and at Oregon for Oregon, Mt. Morris, Stillman Valley and Byron. Within a few days printed leaflets and application cards will be sent to the pastors in this community to enlist their aid in building up the Scout work throughout the area, and a hearty response is anticipated.

Prospects Are Good. While in Dixon today Executive Dreisbach announced that the prospects for the work are excellent. However it is felt that many interested men were not solicited in the recent financial campaign, and all who feel like making a contribution to the work in this community are asked to make such to Ray Kline, campaign chairman.

A big meeting of scouts of the vicinity will be held at Amboy, March 19, at which time the Golden Arch of Scouting will be exemplified and Ray King of this city will be awarded his Eagle Scout badge.

The work of the new area is going on line with excellent prospects, which merit the faith of the promoters of the enlarged Black Hawk area.

"Demand" Arouses Local Supervisors: To Ask Carlstrom

Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom will be asked to render an opinion in a case in which Lee county has become involved with the county clerk of Winnebago county, Howard W. Short, to determine the responsibility for payment of a pauper claim, submitted by that county. This action was taken by the board of supervisors this morning following the reading of a letter from the Winnebago county clerk to County Clerk Fred G. Dimick of Lee county.

The letter stated that Mrs. Amanda Waldron, formerly of Dixon, was now a resident of the city of Rockford, where she had been receiving pauper aid from the county. Another paragraph "ordered" that Mrs. Waldron and four children be removed from Winnebago county forthwith, and the amount of the aid which Winnebago county had extended her, be reimbursed by Lee county.

One member of the Lee county board declared the communication "a bluff" while another supervisor suggested a letter of sympathy be forwarded to the Winnebago county clerk. To dispose of the matter, the case was referred to the judiciary committee with instructions to secure an opinion from the attorney general covering the case.

WEAPONS BARRED FROM MEXICANS' COLONY BY WARD

Sheriff Miller Confiscates Guns, Knives Following Mishap

Sheriff Ward Miller yesterday afternoon notified members of the Mexican colony east of the city that the practice of carrying guns and knives must be stopped at once, and in serving notice he confiscated a number of revolvers of various caliber, which, from all reports had been furnished freely Tuesday night at a wedding celebration.

Lazaro Ortiz, landowner, who was taken in custody at noon yesterday, late in the afternoon admitted having wielded the weapon which discharged a 45 caliber bullet into the left leg of his cousin and best man, Gilberto Cervantes, who is now confined in the hospital and may lose the leg. Ortiz told Sheriff Miller and State's Attorney Mark Keller that while the party was in progress in his home a window glass was broken. Taking the 45 caliber Smith & Wesson shell, which contained but one bullet, he hurried out to the yard where several men were assembled.

Ortiz stated that in the darkness he could not distinguish the parties and with the revolver in his right hand, walked directly against his cousin and best man. The force of the collision, he said, discharged the pistol accidentally, the heavy leaden ball striking his cousin in the left leg and shattering the bone.

Neither the injured man nor any of the members of the Mexican colony would prefer a charge against Ortiz and Sheriff Miller signed warrants for both Ortiz and Regino Renal, charging them with disturbing the peace by flourishing a pistol, drinking and fighting. When arrested before Justice Grover W. Gehart, both men pleaded guilty to the charge and were assessed fines of $25 and costs each, which were paid. Ortiz also promised to take care of the expenses connected with Cervantes' injury.

SEEKING OTHERS IN COLOMBIAN LAND-OIL CASE

Gigantic Fraud Developments Expected by Authorities

Chicago, March 10.—(AP)—Additional indictments will be sought before the federal grand jury in connection with the $1,000,000 land and oil fraud charged against Henry Froelich and Joseph Devore, was disclosed today.

Froelich and Devore already had been indicted and arrested by postoffice inspectors, who, with the district attorneys office, barred the fact yesterday that 1,000 persons in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio had been victimized in investments in land in Colombia, to which the federal agents allege neither Froelich nor Devore had any claim despite their glittering prospects.

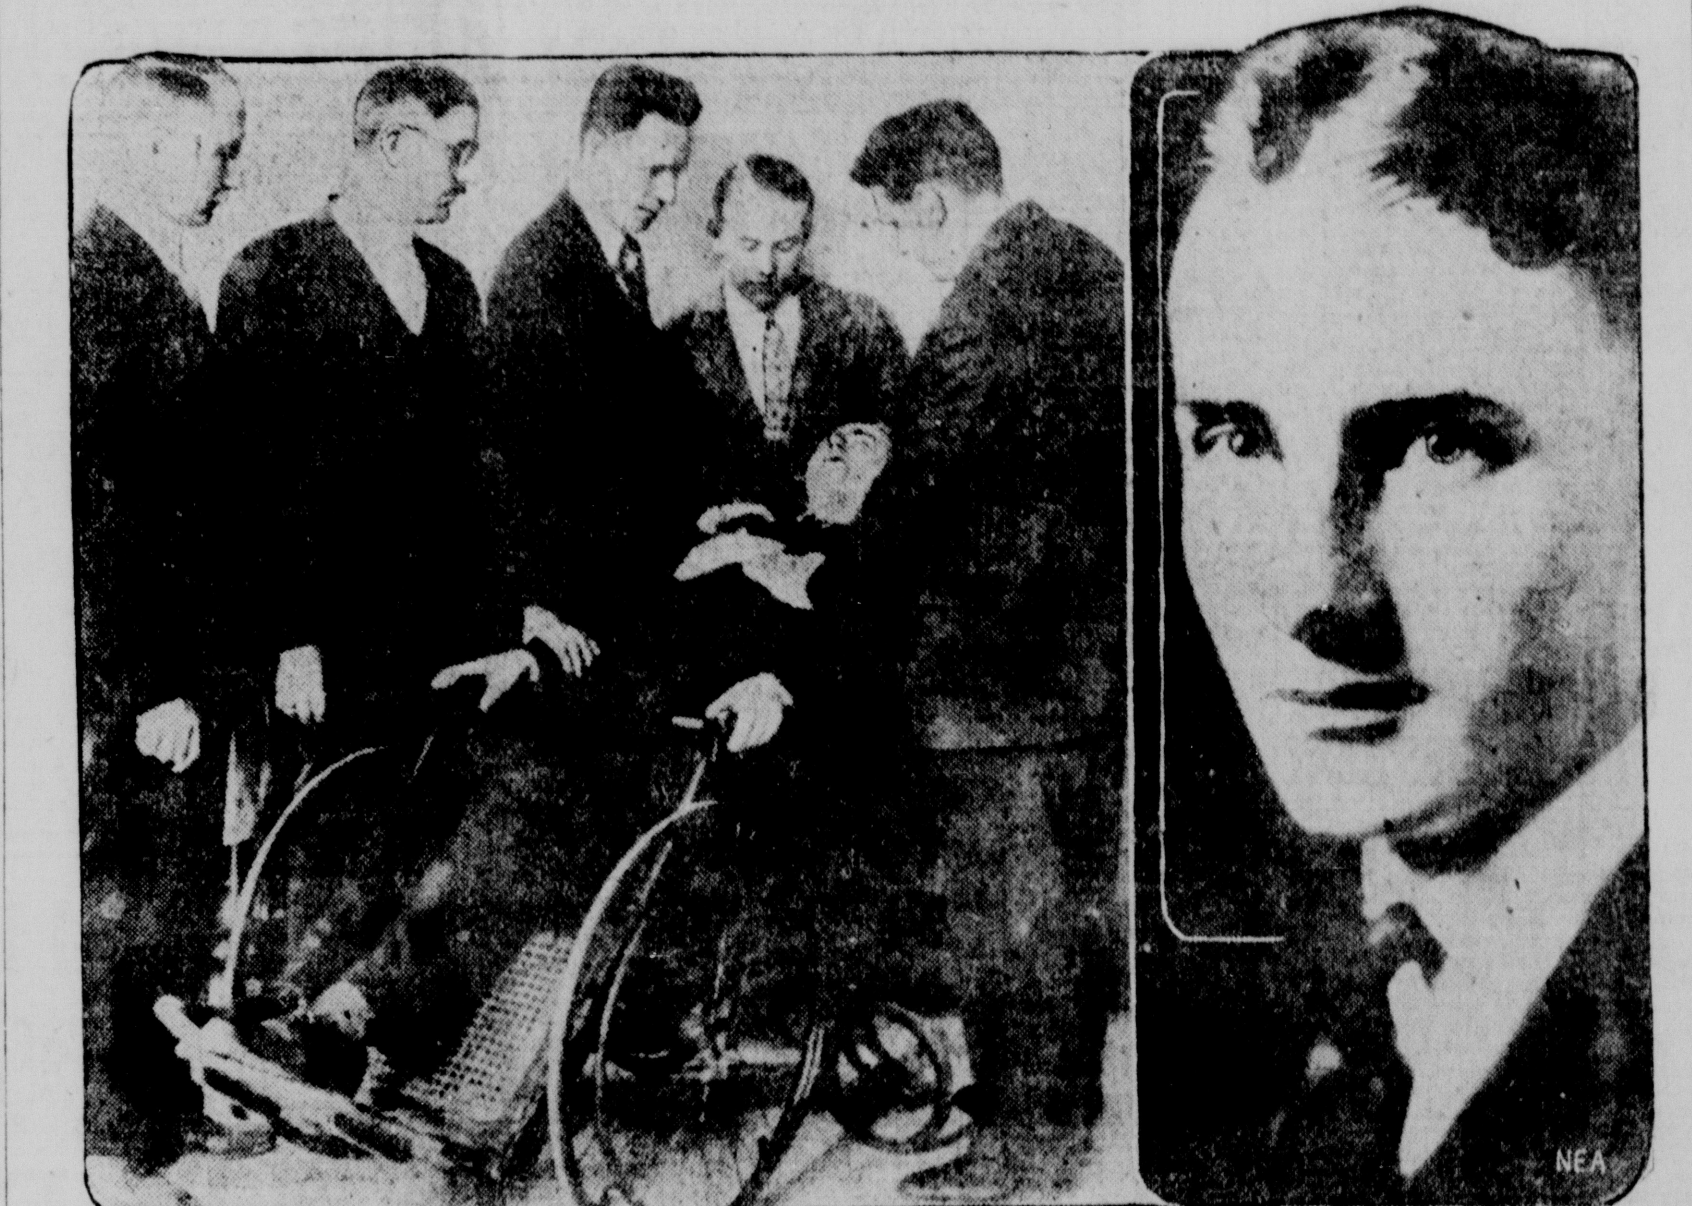

The prospects set forth that Devore, through the influence of a congressman, as a chief legal advisor to the republic, had obtained a concession to 500,000 acres of land bearing oil, gold and platinum deposits as well as precious stones.

A number of the victims, especially in Bloomington, Peoria and vicinity, have been summoned before the grand jury to testify against the alleged swindlers.

HOW A MAN WHO CAN'T BREATHE HAS BEEN KEPT ALIVE 100 HOURS

N. E. A. Service Photos, Transmitted by A. T. & T. Wires.

How Albert Frick has been kept alive and conscious at St. Francis Hospital, Evanston, Ill., ever since last Sunday despite his inability to draw a single breath is shown above. Frick, pictured at the right, is a victim of complete paralysis of the respiratory organs. In one of the most amazing feats of medical history, doctors and other resuscitation experts have kept air flowing to his lungs by rhythmic compression of his chest. With Frick lying helpless in a wheel chair two men at a time alternately compress his chest and then release the pressure, in the manner illustrated by the group photo. This photo was posed especially for The Telegraph and NEA Service by members of the resuscitation squad to demonstrate just how the young man's life was being prolonged. At the left of the group is the patient's employer, John S. Reesman, and next is his father, H. C. Frick. The others, reading on to the right, are C. P. Bahneki, J. B. Pangburn in the chair, John Stppen and L. C. Thayer. Telephoto wires were used by NEA Service in rushing both pictures from Evanston to The Telegraph.

DIXONITES IN U.S.; ESCAPED FROM CHINESE SCORE INDICTED FOR FRAUDS IN CHICAGO ELECTION

Crowe Charges Plots Against Thompson in Grand Jury Work

Dr. Joseph Beech and Family Had Thrilling Experience

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—Twenty persons alleged to have signed suspect notices which resulted in the names of hundreds of voters being stricken from the registration books just before the Washington's birthday primary were indicted today for conspiracy.

Mark O'Leary, head of the fraud bureau of the county commission, and J. A. Sanders and P. E. Douglas, precinct captains, were among those indicted. The name of one woman, Josephine Bond, was in the list. Bonds for each man were set at $65,000.

More than 20,000 suspect notices were sent out and the action was alleged by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, chief supporter of William H. Thompson, the successful candidate for the republican majority nomination, to have been part of a conspiracy to defeat his man.

Under the Illinois law, the recipient of a suspect notice must appear before the election commissioners and prove his identity as the person of record. If he fails to do so, his name is stricken from the registration books and he is denied the right to vote.

BITTER COLD, RAIN, LACK OF FOOD AND SHELTER ADD TO JAPAN'S TALE OF HORROR

Broken Rails, Blocked Roads, Prevent Necessary Help

Tokyo, March 10—(AP)—Each succeeding report from the earthquake area in central Japan furnishes a fresh chapter in a tale of horror. Bitter cold, snow, rain, overflowing streams and lack of food and shelter, all have added to the trials of the terror-stricken people. Those homes either torn apart or about to be when the earth rocked Monday evening or were burned in the fires that followed.

The army, navy and police are making every effort to reach the sufferers but broken railway tracks, blocked roads and flooded country are hindering them.

Communication with this region is still spasmodic and thus complete lists of the casualties cannot be made. Figures compiled by the home office in accordance with its latest advices indicate that nearly 2,300 persons were killed and about 3,500 injured.

Charles MacVagh, the American ambassador, called on Foreign Minister Shidehara today to present the sympathy of his country and offer Red Cross assistance. The foreign minister voiced his appreciation, but said he did not believe outside aid was needed.

Scarlet Fever at Augustana Closes School: Two Dead

Moline, Ill., Mar. 10—(AP)—Augustana College, which yesterday was closed because of a scarlet fever epidemic today is mourning its second tragedy as a result of the disease. Gladys Oberg of Galesburg, a junior in the college, died in the Moline Detention Hospital last night.

Paul Munson of Aurora died early yesterday. Two other students are ill of scarlet fever and health authorities have ordered all of the eight hundred students in the college and several score teachers to be vaccinated. The college was ordered closed until Monday but it now appears possible that the school will not be reopened at that time.

Bloomington—"I have no kick to make. I am satisfied." In those two short sentences, George M. Brown, who killed his wife at Chenoa, Feb. 21, and who must spend the rest of his life in Joliet, told how he felt regarding the sentence meted out to him by Judge Barry yesterday.

PATIENT WAS STRONGER AT NOON TODAY

Albert Frick is Able to Take Little Broth; Fight Continues

BULLETIN Chicago, Mar. 10—(AP)—At 2 p. m., the 100th hour, Albert Frick's temperature remained 100 and pulse continued strongly at 120.

BULLETIN Chicago, Mar. 10—(AP)—Albert Frick's condition had not changed at noon. He was awake, conscious and cheerful. Glucose was fed him by injection into the vein of the stomach. His temperature was 99, a drop of 1 4-10 degrees in an hour and only two fifths of a degree from normal. His pulse rate remained 120, but was stronger.

Chicago, Mar. 10—(AP)—Albert Frick, kept alive 97 hours by artificial respiration since Landry's paralysis halted voluntary use of his diaphragm and lungs, was holding his own at 11 a. m. He was given a little broth at that hour, his first food since he was fed four spoonfuls of coffee at 7 a. m.

Frick was reported by his three physicians at 11 a. m. to have displayed unmistakable indications of improvement. The creeping paralysis had been reduced sufficiently for him to move his hands slightly and the soft palate moved several times. He was conscious and cheerful.

His pulse was 120 and temperature 100. For an hour the pulse had remained stationary, but the temperature reading recorded a drop of one degree. The normal pulse rate is 72 and normal temperature 98.6.

Had Natural Sleep. Just after 10 o'clock Frick fell into a natural sleep, one of the very few instances since the long fight began. Many volunteers waited at the hospital for a possible call for their services in the relay work of enforcing artificial respiration.

The valiant sufferer was considered still to have a chance for life, although the odds against recovery were prohibitive.

He had four teaspoonfuls of coffee at 7 a. m., as the only food of the day. The spark of life, kept aglow for four days by a resolute crew of men, working in shifts to provide artificial respiration, flickered feebly as three score workers battled grimly against death.

Worked in Shifts.

Through the long watches they toiled two by two, compressing and relaxing, compressing and relaxing, the lungs that became numb Sunday morning, fighting to stay the end physicians feared was near. Except for brief demonstration of oxygen, there were no breaks in the rhythmic process but early today there were further signs of exhaustion in Frick's stricken body and a bluish color spreading over the features of the 22 year old patient told of a battle against a straining heart.

Doctors said this indicated faulty circulation and marked additional advance for the creeping paralysis that brought Frick to death's door Sunday morning, when it reached the spinal cord and the nerve contact with the diaphragm, causing lower chest muscles to cease functioning.

Remarkable Record.

As hour after hour was added to a record said to be without parallel in medical history, Frick attempted natural breathing but the endeavor was brief.

He succeeded, however, in suppling nourishment, for the time permitting a halt in the injection of a glucose solution in his paralyzed legs. He also was able to take, which he had been unable to do Sunday.

Physicians did not abandon hope over the night's relapses and, encouraged by the patient's fitful sleep and his gameness, he might yet gain the upper hand.

Government Sale of Liquor in Ontario Follows Prohibition

Toronto, March 10.—(AP)—Ten years of prohibition in Ontario are to be followed by government sale of liquor under provision of a government bill before the legislature.

The new liquor control act, to become effective about May 1, or at a day to be fixed by proclamation, makes government stores, the able distributors for liquors and places administration in charge of a commission. Permits will be necessary for purchase of liquor.

The commission can refuse a permit to an individual without explanation. It controls the brands and prices of liquors to be sold, the hours of sale and it may regulate if it sees fit, the amount of liquor to be sold at one time.

Permits are to be granted irrespective of nationality to persons over 21 who have been residents in the province more than one month. They may be revoked for abuse or law violation. Tourists can only obtain permits only good for one month.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Miller of Franklin Grove was here on business this afternoon.

Jesus Begins His Ministry

From Cana he went with his mother, his brethren and his disciples to Capernaum, where he stayed a few days. (John II: 12)

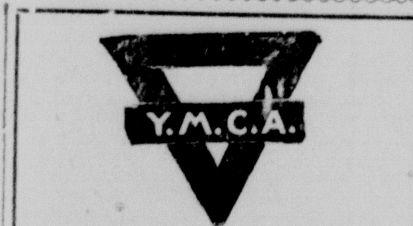

Then he went to Jerusalem for the Passover—a feast in March, lasting eight days, commemorating the exodus from Egypt. (John II: 13)

Finding in the Temple at Jerusalem people buying and selling, and changing money, bent on gain and not on worship, Jesus took a whip of small cords and drove them out, saying "Make not my Father's house an house of merchandise." (John II: 14-17)

CLOSE FINISHES MARKED BASKET SHOOTING AT 'Y'

Industrial Leaguers Put Up Real Games Wednesday Eve

A capacity crowd at the "Y" last night was thrilled at the high class type basket ball that the industrial teams put forth. All the games were so close all the way through that the crowd was held in suspense until the final whistle in each case.

In the first game, between the American Body & Cab Company and the Highway Department, it was so close that the crowd was up in the air most of the time. The Highway won the game but were not sure of it until the final whistle blew. The cab company team was in the lead for most of the first half and then the Highway department pepped up and forged ahead, where they remained for the rest of the game. Slothower of the Cab Company was high point man of the game with 13 points. The final score was 18 to 17 in favor of the Highway Department.

In the second game, the Brown Shoe Company took everyone by surprise as well as their opponents, the Reynolds Wire Screen Company. The Brown aggregation has surely developed some clever team work and kept the Reynolds players worried constantly. In fact at the half Brown was ahead 6 to 4. It was not until well into the last half that Reynolds picked up the lead. Then, after seeing a bit, first one team ahead and then the other Reynolds shot in a few extra field goals that won them the game 21 to 15.

The J. I. Case swamped the I. N. U. company in the third game by a score of 27 to 14. Somehow, it seemed to be an off-night for the Utilities, but the put up a real scrap. Kratz, of the Plowmakers, was high point man of the game, with 14 points.

MIDGETS ENJOYED FEED

Twenty-four boys of the Mighty Midgets gym class sure had a real feed last night at the "Y." Talk about eats, boy oh boy! The boys have planned these feeds for every month. They surely had a good time.

OLD MASTERS

Therefore to whom turn I but to thee, the ineffable Name?
Builder and maker, thou, of houses not made with hands!

What, have fear of change from thee who are ever the same?
Doubt that thy power can fill the heart that thy power expands?
There shall never be one lost good!
What was, shall live as before;
The evil is null, is naught, is silence implying sound;
What was good shall be good, with for evil, so much good more;
On earth the broken arcs; in the heaven a perfect round.

All we have willed or hoped or dreamed of good shall exist;
Not its semblance but itself; no beauty, nor good, nor power
Whose voice has gone forth, but each strives for the melodist
When eternity affirms the conception of an hour.
The high that proved too high, the heroic for earth too hard,
The passion that left the ground to lose itself in the sky,
Are music sent up to God by the lover and the bard;
Enough that He heard it once; we shall hear it by and by.

—Robert Browning: From "Abt Vogler."

PALMYRA MUTUAL AID SOCIETY HELD MEETING

The Palmyra Mutual Aid Society held an interesting and profitable all-day meeting at the Sugar Grove church Wednesday, with seventeen members and three visitors present, one new member being taken in. The day was spent in piecing quilt blocks, and a picnic dinner was enjoyed. The business meeting in the afternoon was devoted to reporting the Lord's Prayer, accepting the report of the secretary-treasurer, and exchanging reports.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST—Stewed figs, cereal, thin cream, creamed fresh beef on toast, crisp bran toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Veal loaf, creamed new carrots, radishes and young onions, Graham bread, canned strawberries, coconut cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER—Salt codfish pie, buttered beets, French endive with French dressing, baked apple dumplings, whole wheat bread, milk, coffee.

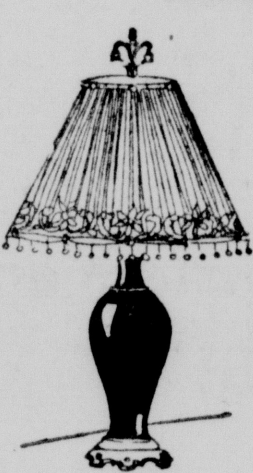

The codfish pie combines potatoes, parsnips and tomatoes with freshened salt codfish in a most appetizing fashion. It also forms a labor saving "one piece" meal if desired.
The veal loaf is good, hot or cold, cut in thin slices for luncheon or supper.

Veal Loaf
One and one-half pounds lean veal 1/2 pound fresh pork, 2 eggs, 4 soda crackers, 1/2 cup cream, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons minced parsley.
Remove gristle and bone from meat and put through food chopper. Mix thoroughly. Beat eggs slightly and add to meat. Crush crackers and add alternately with cream to first mixture. Add seasonings and work mixture with large wooden fork or spoon until perfectly blended. Pack into a deep, well buttered oblong pan. Cover with buttered paper and bake one hour in a moderately hot oven.
Turn out of pan onto a hot platter and cut in thin slices to serve.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by Allene Sumner

Well, they made sure that she was dead this time! I don't want to start your day all wrong, but I think you'll enjoy the ghoulish tale of Mrs. Alice Shrive, 55, whom relatives tried to bury three times. Thirty years ago the pull-beaters stumbled as they marched her in the coffin to the hearse, and the body corpse "rared up" and asked 'em how they got that way. Two years after that they held a wake over her, and the mourners for wailing so loud. When she died last week the relatives cut two arteries and took no chances of revival. One wonders just what they didn't like about the lady other than her penchant for refusing to stay dead.

"Nurse Knight baby necklaces," named in honor of Nurse Knight in charge of the Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke of York, second son of the King and Queen of England, are all the rage in pram row in Hyde Park. But I don't care whether the third heir apparent to the British throne wears one or not. I always loathed jewelry on babies, and always shall, even if a great-aunt may remember the gold ring she gave me aged 3 days old.

"Even though," as the papers put it, "Elizabeth's mother's father is Dwight W. Morrow of Wall Street, she will become a school teacher next fall." And what's news about that? I thought we merely took it for granted that no matter what wealth and social position today's girls had, they preferred to get a job and spend their own check, then tea-dance and use Dad's charge account. And it's darned hard for such us as must labor in the vineyard if we eat to get their big idea!

Enemies of all and any birth control theories may be able to use this story to advantage in their propaganda. A certain lady was kidnapped by bold bad bandits. They robbed her and opened her Vanity case. There was a baby's picture inside. "Yourn?" they asked, and when she claimed maternity, they gave her curfew home.

NOTHING FUNNY ABOUT EM!
Are weddings occasions of amusement? Brides and grooms of Berlin, say not so, protesting the heavy tax they must pay for wedding feasts with the music and dancing. Weddings should not bear an amusement tax, they protest. They are occasions of gravity, even if music and dancing do feature them. And of course they're right, although it is amusing to contemplate certain weddings we have known!

Mrs. McLalet English of Arkansas planned a quadruplet wedding at her home. She and her three daughters were all to be united in the holy bonds. The daughters were married, but not she, for her bridegroom didn't show up. He did the next day, however, and they were married then. There is no report that all was forgotten and forgiven even if the ceremony did take place. She won't forget that in a hurry, and neither will he.

GROOMS FOR BEAUTY
If you hold any broom stock, watch for a rise on the market. More brooms are being sold, say dealers, than ever before. They explain that modern gettin' propa-ganda which stresses the requisite value of housework explains the broom sale. And the thing that puzzles me is that with all this hue and cry about the beautifying effects of housework, no women have such un-sexy figures as wash women, char women, and all these who drudge with scrub brush, broom, and dish pan.

Mrs. Rowland New President of P. E. O.

Chapter AC, P. E. O. met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Row with Mrs. S. W. Lehman as assisting hostess. Officers for the following year were elected as follows:
President—Mrs. Alfred Rowland.

PRESBYTERIAN GUILD MET WITH MRS. RAYMOND

The Presbyterian Guild held a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Phil Raymond, 706 Brighton Avenue, with Miss Bess Benson as assistant hostess. After the supper, a short business meeting was conducted, followed by the study hour, during which Miss Ruth Morris read a most interesting paper written by Miss Katherine Morris on the Tucson Indian School of Arizona. The members then enjoyed a social time, and adjourned at a late hour, everyone having had a fine time.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY MET TUESDAY EVENING

The Philharmonic Society met at the home of Bernice Leland Tuesday evening, at which time the composer, Franz Liszt, was studied. Following the study refreshments were served.

PHIDIAN ART CLUB MET WITH MRS. POTTER

The Phidian Art Club met Tuesday, with Mrs. I. B. Potter.

Mrs. A. F. Moore read a delightful paper on the Swedish novelist, Selma Lagerlof. Miss Lagerlof was the first woman awarded the Nobel prize, which was given to her for a hundred page novel, later published under the name "Kosta Berling Saga," and also the first woman admitted to the Swedish Academy. Her stories give most charming pictures of Swedish manners and customs. Most delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

For Bladder Relief Is Nature's Danger Signal. Columbus Minister's Wife Relates Experience.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell, 824 No. Park St., Columbus, Ohio, says: "My wife was troubled seriously with bladder irritation until we used Lithiated buchu (Keller Formula). She would have to get up 6 to 8 times each night. Will gladly answer any letter." Lithiated buchu acts on the bladder as epsom salts on the bowels. Drives out foreign matter and decreases excessive acidity, thereby relieving irritation. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. How Children Quickly Gain Robust Health

For weak, puny, inactive children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it. But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date pharmacists advise McEoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, with their wealth of vitamins.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar coated and easy to take. THE DREAMERS WHO RULE US ALL.

"... I'll not fight with the powers of air;
Sentries, pass him through!
Drawbridge, let fall; he's the lord of us all—
The dreamer whose dreams came true."

Thus wrote Kipling, years ago.

Being a practical, matter-of-fact people, it is our tendency to admire the poetic swing of those lines but to dismiss them with the remark, "Dreamers are all very well, but after all it's not the dreamers who get the world's work done."

There is where we prove ourselves much less wise than Mr.
Kipling. For, in spite of our speechless adoration of the level-headed, practical man of affairs, the fact remains that it is the dreamer, and no one else, who has made our nation what it is.

No? Very well; go to a library, get out the files of a newspaper, and read all the testimony in the Detroit $30,000,000 tax suit. Read how a poor young mechanic in Detroit, some 30 years ago, gave himself over to dreams and visions while his level-headed fellows were working and saving money; read how this dreamer, whose name is Henry Ford, made his dream come true and changed a nation's way of living.

Or consider Edison, the dreamer, who gave us electric lights, phonographs and a dozen other things; consider Marconi, who was grandfather to the radio; consider, in fact, any of the men we call truly great and you will see that each of them was a man who dreamed a dream and devoted his life to making it a reality.

Beware how you scoff at the dreamers. The world has always been at the disposal of any eloquent dreamer who could induce his more practical brethren to get behind his dream with ready cash.

Thousands of youths in America today are dreaming dreams of what America will be in the future. Most of them will live to see their visions shattered, of course; but somewhere, right at this minute, there is a young man whose slowly-forming dream will yet be the law by which America moves.

Perhaps he dreams of a scheme to release the power of the atoms and free us forever from drudgery; perhaps he dreams of a new philosophy, that will iron out the complexities and doubts of our modern life; perhaps he dreams of a new system of government which he is fated to install.

We won't know. But we can be sure that somewhere, today, someone is seeing a vision that will be made a reality.

THE PLACE THAT IDEALS HOLD.

A number of rather notable things have taken place in our country during the past decade. Among them is the strange change that has come over the little band of serious thinkers who once were so active in urging assorted kinds of political and social reform.

So marked has this tendency been that even The Nation, a magazine of, by and for "liberals," recently ran a series of articles on the question, "What has become of the pre-war radicals?"

The answers were interesting. Through most of them there ran a thread of comment something like this:

"The people aren't capable of following great causes. We have given up the fight because it is impossible to get anywhere by appealing to the 'better nature' of the average man. Folks are too selfish and too indifferent to give themselves to the service of ideals."

That would be rather sad if it were true. But we would like to suggest that it isn't.

There is no mistake more tragic than putting too low an estimate on the average man's capacity for self-sacrificing service. The truth of the matter is that the world's leaders have yet had the vision to call fully and freely on mankind's spiritual energy.

Hold even the most tarnished ideal up before men and, if it has in it any portion of truth, they will flock to your standard in droves. What, do you suppose, led two million men to die on the battlefields of Europe between 1914 and 1918?
Iron army discipline? Not at all.

Dimly and blindly these men felt that they were giving themselves to something bigger and finer than their own selfish ends. They responded, in amazing nobility and without complaint, to the call of the only ideals their rules had given them. They will do it again if the same call is made.

It has always been so and it always will be. There is in man a flood tide of selfless energy that some day will rise and send the citadels of enthroned wrong toppling forever into the abyss of discarded things.

Those who sit in the high places are the ones who should mend their ways. Let them but sound the right call and they will get a response to shake the world.

IS EVERYBODY MISERABLE?

Harry K. Thaw has thought out a project which he said would make all people happy, according to a dispatch. Maybe it's a Maxim silencer for an alarm clock. . . . People are happiest when asleep, says a noted thinker, which gives rise to the quaint observation that there is lots of misery in the world these nights. . . . Maybe Thaw has figured out a way to abolish the United States Senate. . . . Could it be possible that he has discovered a plan to clean up this chess skullduggery? . . . But he says it will take $3,500,000 to put his project into action and he is waiting for someone to put up the money. . . . Why doesn't he ask Harry Lauder for it?

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

Miss Muffet bid each Tynymite good bye and said, "Twit! It's all right for you to roam around this land, but come back here some day." The Ti-nies thank her for her treat, and said they thought her mighty sweet. And then the whole band waved goodbye, and soon were on their way.

They roamed the highway, far and wide, and very pretty scenery eyed.
The grass and trees were very green and everything looked grand. The sky was blue, the air was pure and every Tynymite felt sure that they'd been very lucky to have landed in this land.

They reached a field of new-mown hay and stopped awhile to run and play. Wee Coppy found a pumpkin that was lying on the ground. He jumped upon with his feet clipped off a piece. It tasted sweet. And then he shouted to the rest, "Oh, look what I have found!"

They all run up and took a taste, and not a portion went to waste, except the stem and outside shell which really was too tough. In 'bout a half an hour or so, wee Clowdy loudly shouted, "Oh, I think my sides are going to burst. I've had more than enough."

The Scouty said, "I see some hay.
Let's run right over there and play.
We'll run and jump and land ker-plunk. It will not hurt a bit." And so, to carry out his plan, he hopped right up and quickly ran and took a jump. Right in the hay is where he shortly lit.

And then he got a big surprise in what was right before his eyes. He whispered to the others, "Please be quiet. Do not peep." They crept up and were startled too, for there lay wee Little Boy Blue. It didn't take them long to see that he was fast asleep.

SAINT
and SINNER

The courthouse, a large and imposing building of white, rough-hewn stone, with magnificent white marble pillars, was set, in lonely splendor, in the center of a city block, its terraced lawn a thing of olive beauty in the spring and summer.

But this very raw day in January found the dry stubble of the courthouse lawn trampled by thousands of feet. Men and women and holiday from school—having lost their fight for admission into the court room, which had been packed since seven o'clock, were now lighting for preferred positions near the broad flight of marble steps leading into the building, hoping for a glimpse of the prisoners' relatives and the family of the murdered man.

But it was not the sight of the familiar courthouse and jail which caused Faith's eyes to dilate with horror and Jim Lane's hand to tremble in their clasp of his daughter's arm.

Facing it, on three sides, were blocks of one, two, three and even four-story buildings, given over to garages, filling stations, cheap eating houses and hotels. And almost every-business concern in the three blocks facing the courthouse was making a frantic bid for patronage from the thousands who would throng the courthouse square during the trial for murder of Cherry Lane Wiley and her husband, Christopher Wiley.

"PARK HERE WHILE ATTEND-ING THE BIG TRIAL," pleaded an enormous red and white bunting banner stretched across the only vacant lot on the square. Three men had angued and capied the drivers of the endless stream of cars seeking parking space.

A "hot dog" stand, hastily constructed of unpainted pine, occupied a corner of the hitherto vacant lot, enticing patrons with the promise, crudely lettered across the front of the shack: "BEST HOT DOGS IN TOWN AT THE CHERRY QUICK EATS STAND."

The plate glass front of a drug store had been decorated with an enormous picture done in red and white soapstuds, purporting to be a portrait of Cherry Lane Wiley, and advertising a new soda fountain concoction, "The Cherry Lane Sundae," a great dish of which the pictured Cherry was supposed to be eating with joyful surprise.

Newsstands, also hastily construced of unpainted pine, flaunted gigantic printed portraits of Cherry and Chris, foot-high lettering assuring the mob of "DAILY SCOOPS ON THE BIG MURDER TRIAL." As Bob gave up the attempt to find a parking place and turned into the vacant lot, newshyos were shrieking a new extra:

"Extra! Extra! Read Chris Wiley's own story of his life. Read all about how he came to marry the beautiful flapper murderess! Chronicle! Extra!"

"It's outrageous, Bob!" Faith gasped, as she and her father and Bob pushed their way through the crowd that had instantly collected before the parking place. "Isn't there any way to stop their using Cherry's name like this? Look! Over there, at that beauty parlor. How do they dare use Cherry's picture like that without her permission? The new

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Cherry Lane bob!" Oh, how do they dare!"

"Such," Bob said bitterly, "is justice in this great free land of ours.
Come on, we'll get through this jam somehow. Duck your head, darling.
There's a camera aiming at you!
Sorry, Mr. Lane. I'm afraid they got you that time!"

TOMORROW: Like the star of a melodrama, Cherry makes her first dramatic appearance in the courtroom where she will fight for life and liberty.

Sing Sing was named after the Six-Sinck Indians, who originally lived in the neighborhood where the New York prison now stands.

Confessions of Washington Wives

Being Intimate Stories of the Woman's Side of Official Life in the Capital

BY ALLENE SUMNER

(Copyright, 1927, NEA Service, Inc.)

CHAPTER IV

"Nobody lives on the hill."

That's what the official sisterhood of Washington tells the newcomers when her private car strikes the Union Depot. (Yes, indeed, many of them come by private car, and many of them do not.)

But however they come, they soon learn that if they would be somebodies in Washington, they simply may not live within commuting distance of "the hill"—the nation's beautiful capitol building.

Sometimes the sisterhood strikes a hard nut to crack. Sometimes an insurgent husband brings an insurgent wife who insists on living where she darn please.

The Insurgent Shipsteads

Take the Hendrick Shipsteads from Minnesota, for instance. Mrs. Shipstead started househunting. They told her that "nobody lived on the hill."

She told the senator. He said, "Ah, so we have no degenerated that we need a location."

The Shipsteads live on the hill, almost next door to the capitol, which Mrs. Shipstead calls "the biggest show on earth," and they manage to be "somebodies" in spite of it.

And, of course, the congressional families, like the poor, are ever with us.

They are hived together "upon the hill," perhaps 40 of them, in a hotel of the traveling salesman type. Potted cannae in the lobby, the smell of furniture polish, wicker chairs on the porch, and darkish little suites which can be rented for $125 a month for two.

The Other Half

Long and weary miles trod the city over by dozens of congressmen's wives have proved that this is about the best they can do. They may rebel at first as visions of sunny big houses which can be rented at home for $125 persist, but sooner or later they begin to prize, of freedom, to trek to the capitol galleries, and gather in one another's rooms for bridge and gossip.

That's how one half lives. The other half lives in the world's most luxurious apartment houses and hotels.

The "Andrew Mellon apartment house," where the secretary of the treasury lives, is said to rent its huge suites for $18,000 a year.

Dr. Hubert Work's suite in another hotel rents for almost his salary of $12,500 a year.

Basic Suites at $6000

Fifty senators and a few congressmen's families live in what are called "basic suites" of a certain hotel. These suites rent for $6000 a year. The suite consists of an ordinary living room with an in-a-door bed, a few pieces of carved Italian furniture, a bedroom, kitchenette, pullman dining alcove and bath.

But the dreamed-of marble halls of song are all about. Foyers and lobbies carpeted with rugs of liquid plush, time-dyed tapestries and oil canvases upon the walls, beautiful fountains, clinging birds in golden cages, shops filled with beauty, cigarette girls clad in gorgeous silken pajamas, jeweled combs in their hair, incense burners aflame, and the colorful costumes of the world's officialdom all about.

Here, in mirrored and tapestried and over-upholstered "peacock allies" sit rows upon rows of beautiful women. Some not so beautiful. Old women with kalsomined faces puffing

Russian cigarette through jeweled holders; Washington's debt, swathed to the pink chin in priceless peltries, whisk down the alley on the arm of some mustached gallant.

Borrow $15,000 a Year

"You might just as well be dead as try to be in Washington and not live like this," a senator's wife told me, confiding that her husband borrowed $15,000 every year he was in the Senate.

"We figure it's better business to live well enough to make contacts, even if it's on borrowed money," she said. "There'll be a better chance to make a haul some day. You can't get anywhere if you don't meet the right people."

Next you'll have some tidbits about life in the White House.

COMPTON NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Thompson, daughters Eva and Odessa and son Wilbur of Shabbona and Nathan Olson of Madison, Minn., spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Wolford and John Myrtle of Rockford were week end guests at the Fred Gilmore home. Evelyn Gilmore, who is attending the Rockford College also spent the days at home. She returned to Rockford with Mr. and Mrs. Wolford Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Aulla Johnson of Dixon was a guest at the C. P. Johnson home this week.

Jesse Fox and H. M. Chaon and Grover Carnahan made a business trip to Dixon Thursday of last week.

Julius Kugler, residing on a farm north of here, has recently purchased a new Paige sedan.

James Nellis of Rochelle was calling on business friends here one day last week.

Paul G. Fricke, the former pastor of the local M. E. church, but now located at Rockford, spent Thursday and Friday here with friends.

Word has been received that Mrs. Jeff Ackland of Rochelle died at the home of her daughters Elizabeth at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

W. L. Pettys and Wilbur Swope are doing interior decorating in the Dr. C. G. Pool flat building at Dixon.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson, after having been confined to her bed in the hospital here for eight months, was taken to her home at Canton.

Zina Fairchild, who has been suffering from dropsy for the last two months, has regained so that he is enjoying his usual health.

The readers will recall in a recent issue, twenty some verses of poetry, written by Lydia Pettys, entitled "Compton", and by the means of this medium a party at Dixon, has prepared an answer to Miss Pettys' "replica".

"YOUR BEAUTIFUL TOWN"

Miss Lydia Pettys, you are right, Compton is a beautiful sight, They have very nice people I must say, Who will greet you any time of day.

I used to live in your little town, And hear the good old school bell sound;

Go to your little church, with the steeple, And meet all the good people.

You mentioned everything, I guess, You are right I must confess, But, Oh! These Roads on a rainy day, Are a fright I must say.

So why don't they gravel the way Where people travel every day? It sure would make business whirl, To connect them up with the rest of the world. —I. R. MILLER.

Flashes of Life

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

London—Will it be Prime Minister Nancy Astor? The government, it is understood, is ready to give the vote to women when they are 21 even though it would mean a majority of women voters in every parliamentary constituency. They can't vote now till 30.

Poughkeepsie—Vassar College is to turn a bit co-educational in summer. Women may take their husbands for a course on the theory and practice of home making. Twelve husbands already ready have been registered by their wives.

New York—Hunting a bit and run motorist who killed her boy, Mrs. Anna Spetko is patrolling Upper Park Ave. daily with a sandwich placard asking that information be volunteered.

Rome—Men who permit wives and daughters to dress immodestly are to be disciplined. Supporting the Pope's ideas as to raiment, an organization is calling for speedy and discreet reports from members with a view to economic and moral boycotts.

New York—Six hams for one dinner. "It seems an awful lot of ham to me," President Coolidge is quoted as telling Mrs. Elizabeth Jaffrey, formerly housekeeper at the White House, who is writing her recollections in Hearst's International Magazine. She estimates Mr. Coolidge has saved $50,000 out of his salary and says he has more clothes than five previous presidents she knew.

New York—Simon Rathchild, pioneer in the cloak and suit trade, who says he used to play poker with Grover Cleveland, is 100 years old. Daily he smokes and takes something obtainable legally by prescription.

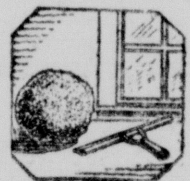

WOOD LEG NO HANDICAP

Sydney, New South Wales—When a cow on the farm of Miss Anna Penrose broke its leg, her owner put the leg in splints. But the cow just wouldn't be careful of the frail limb, and the leg was broken again. So Miss Penrose herself amputated the leg and devised an ingenious artificial one to replace it. That was six years ago. The cow now is in perfect health, has had three calves and is one of the best milkers in the herd.

The College Style for Spring

Not only for college men—but for all who like the smartness of college styles. Observe the straight, full effect of the jacket; the high coin lapels; the widely spaced buttons.

The Right Topcoat

Though other styles will also be good, the box coat will again be the favorite with young men. It has an ease, a carefree drape and swagger that no other coat has.

Here they are—the new ideas in clothes. Not the extreme clothes, but the ones that will actually be worn this Spring by well-dressed men. We don't mind saying they're the finest lot of clothes we've ever shown, in any season. You never saw such a wealth of new things—suits and topcoats both, cut with a correctness, a degree of distinction, never equalled before even by Society Brand!

The models shown here will be the favorites with men everywhere. Each one is fine looking—in fact, the illustrations hardly begin to show how fine they are. You'll have to see the clothes themselves to get the full effect and to pick out the model best suited to you. And the new exclusive fabrics are as fine as the styles. For suits we recommend Bristol Stripes, and Piping Rocks; for topcoats, Beverly Tweeds.

Light colors in Tweeds, Flannels and Cassimeres are shown extensively in the new Spring Suits and Top Coats.

Suits in the better wool materials will sell from $30 to $50.

Top Coats in good wool Tweeds and Cassimere fabrics at $20 to $40.

A Great 3-Button Style

Three-button suits will be more popular this Spring than at any time in years. This is the correct cut:—Fairly broad shoulders, a slight waist suppression, coin lapels.

The New 2-Button

All young men who lean toward the conservative in clothes will like this model. Broad shouldered, with plenty of chest; a trim waist, coin lapels.

With a Touch of Formality

This is the new double-breasted. It has an air different from that of any other style. And there's none more distinguished.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?
Are you one of those unfortunate who are going through life suffering with a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.? For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth.
"I feel so happy for what S.S.S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S.S.S., I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S.S.S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.
S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.
S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

TO ALL WHO SUFFER STOMACH DISTRESS, GAS AND INDIGESTION

Rowland's Pharmacy Makes This Offer
Money Back If One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Doesn't Do You More Good than Anything You Ever Used.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness and bloating that you think your heart is going to stop beating.
Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy.
You think perhaps you are suffocating.
You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?
Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Pepsin, and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.
Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether?

This does the work of 50 pounds of ice—and more—every day!

Be ready for hot weather—make your ice box a Frigidaire

IF it were possible for you to keep your ice-box filled—constantly—24 hours a day—you would still not have as good refrigeration as the Frigidaire frost-coil will give you, without any attention on your part.
If you have any standard make of ice-box, you can have Frigidaire installed in it and from that time you can forget about refrigeration. Your meats, vegetables and other foods will be kept better than you were ever able to keep them before. Spoiled foods will be a thing of the past.
Come in and let us demonstrate Frigidaire to you.

CHAMPIONS MEET WALNUT IN THEIR FIRST TOURNEY GAME AT STERLING HIGH TODAY

District Tournament is Under Way: Local Fans Want Title

Dixon high school's basketball team, champions of the Rock River Conference, who went through their regular season without a defeat stepped onto the floor of the Sterling high school gymnasium at 3 o'clock this afternoon to play their first game of the district tournament. Walnut high being the opponents of the champions in their first tourney game, the second of the afternoon—Erie and Hoopole, meeting in the first.

Following the Dixon-Walnut game Tampico and Prophetstown were to mix; and this evening's games are to be between Rock Falls and Oregon, Ashton and Lee Center and Sterling and Morrison.

Tomorrow morning Franklin Grove meets Paw Paw and Polo will mix with Amboy.

Dixon's second game of the tourney, provided, of course, they defeat Walnut this afternoon, will be tomorrow afternoon, when Coach McMasters' boys will tackle the winners of the Rock Falls-Oregon game.

A goodly number of Dixon fans will be present every time Dixon goes on the floor, for nothing but a district championship will satisfy the many followers of the local school's quinet.

Over 400 season tickets have been sold, and a great many reservations for single admissions at various sections have been made. From indications there will be at least four capacity crowds. With the new arrangements 1100 fans can be accommodated.

For the convenience of the fans, especially those from out-of-town, who wish to telephone the news home, a telephone pay station has been installed in the corridor next to the gym and there will be some one in charge during both the district and sectional tournaments.

Bowling Congress Opens in Peoria Last Evening

Peoria, Ill., March 10—(AP)—Following preliminary exercises in which local and national notables of the bowling world are entered the 27th International American Bowling Congress swung into action shortly after 8 o'clock Wednesday night when lead off men of the Knights of Columbus teams laid their minerals down the 24 alleys for the get-away. About 1,000 spectators witnessed the opening.

Mayor Mueller, president Al Heldrich of the local Association of Commerce, Charles Cushing and Secretary Langtry participated in the ceremonies which were of short duration. Langtry received telegrams sent by celebrities of the bowling world—Jimmy Smith, and Judge Howard of Chicago.

Last night's standing:
Five men events:

Joliet High School to Meet Loyola U on Floor

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—Winning their 20th straight victory, the De La Salle high school team of Joliet last night defeated St. Mel of Chicago for the sectional Catholic high school heavyweight championship and the right to enter the national tourney at Loyola University next week. The score was 25-21.

YANKS' MANAGER "STANDS PAT" ON TEAM CARDS BEAT

Same Old Lineup to be Started in Pennant Race This Year

BY BRYAN BELL

St. Petersburg, Fla., Mar. 10—(AP)—Babe Ruth is in the lineup and all's well with the Yanks. The slugging outfielder in practice promises to pick up his home run hitting where he left off in the World Series and the other players believe New York will ride to another American League pennant on the big bat of the Babe.

Those who believe "as Ruth goes, so go the Yanks," find much to please them in the spring training program as Ruth slams the ball to distant places.

To support the Babe, Manager Huggins will offer the same cast he used to win the pennant last season. He will have some added starters in the reserve, but will stand pat on the regulars.

With Gehrig, Lazzari, Koenig and Dugan enlisted for the duration of the baseball war, the infield contest is for assistant to Mike Gazzella, who has again first utility call.

Ray Morehart and Julian Wera have shown so much in the camp that Spencer Adams may be pushed aside.

Outfielders Have Cinch.
A similar situation exists in the outfield. Ruth, Combs and Meusel are fixtures, with Fuschal no less firmly entrenched as extra man.

Bengough and Collins, last year's catchers, have been joined by Grabowski, former White Sox, who won a place on the staff in short order.

Jones and Braxton are missing from the hurting staff but Reuther, who was with Washington last year, is on hand and Giard has taken over a St. Louis uniform to put on New York colors.

Of the new men on the staff George

Piggras will be kept and may be a starting pitcher.
Manager Huggins expects to again put his faith on Pennock, Hoyt and Shocker as his shock troops on the mound.

Latz-Simonich Fight in Chicago Ring Tonight

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—Pete Latzo will fight Joe Simonich, Butte, Mont., wallop, in a ten round affair tonight in which Latzo's welterweight title will be at stake.

It will be the second fight here within a month in which a champion has engaged without risking his crown. Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight champion, took a lacing from Spig Meyers of Pocahontas, Idaho but came out with crown unscathed. Myers contracted to enter the ring over the weight limit.

George Courtney, New York middleweight, and Al Webster of Billings, Mont., are the 19 round semi-finals.

Mostil Has Chance to Recover Says Physicians

Shreveport, La., March 10—(AP)—Johnny Mostil continued to improve this morning and physicians of the White Sox center fielder were more hopeful than at any time since his attempted suicide.

Mostil slashed his wrists, throat and ankles and stabbed himself just above the heart in an attempt to take his own life in a hotel room here Tuesday.

Physicians said today Mostil had more than an even chance of recovery.

MANY UPSETS IN BILLIARD MATCH FOOLING SPORTS

Hoppe's Crown Will be Taken From Him in Present Match

Washington, Mar. 10—(AP)—The four players with a 500 percentage or better in the world's championship 18.2 ballline billiard tournament here were booked for matches today and tonight after another tournament upset that broke the triple tie that existed prior to yesterday's game.

Jake Schaefer, Chicago, former title holder, now tied with Welker Cochran of California for first place, was to face Erich Hagenlacher of Germany, another former champion. In the afternoon contest, while Cochran will meet Horemans of Belgium tonight.

Hagenlacher after losing his second game of the tournament yesterday to Felix Grange of France 378 to 400, came back strong last night and upset the dope by beating Horemans 400 to 182.

With Hoppe of New York, whose title is bound to change hands remains in sixth place above the last man, Matsuyama of Japan.

Standings:	Won	Lost
Cochran	3	0
Schaefer	3	0
Horemans	3	1
Grange	3	1
Hagenlacher	2	2

As a result the demand has grown to very large proportions. Let it do for you what it does for your friends—for people all about you. Reduce to your normal weight.

All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. Each box contains a pamphlet explaining the results. Go try it. You will be delighted.

Hunt Beats Oosterbaan Out of Scoring Honors

Chicago, March 10—(AP)—The Big Ten's high scorer in basketball this season is not going to be Benny Oosterbaan of Michigan after all.

That was Bill Hunt's doing. Hunt, captain of Ohio State, shot four field goals and made one free throw in the Ohio-Indiana game last night, boosting his season's point total to 116—4 points above Oosterbaan.

Despite his personal victory, Hunt's team was beaten 36-31, Indiana thus clinching second place in the conference standings.

Purdue with one more game to play has a chance to tie the Hoosiers just behind the champion Michigan team. The defeat of Ohio, made the season a 50-50 affair for that school with six games won and six lost.

This modern age discriminates—and smokes Camels

THIS age is the hardest to satisfy—it's the most discriminating age ever known. That's why it goes to Camel for cigarette enjoyment. It takes real tobacco to satisfy modern smokers and Camels are made of the choicest tobaccos grown, marvelously blended. Smokers of today are right in demanding Camels; no better cigarettes are made, regardless of price.

To seek a real smoke is to find Camel—the choice of the modern world. Camels are a revelation of goodness, always mellow, smooth and mild. This age shows the way to smoke contentment—

Matinee Ladies

BY William B. Courtney

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Bob Ward, a poverty-stricken engineering student in his senior year, who is working his way through college by whatever jobs he can get at the college employment bureau, is informed by his two chums, Freddy and Arch, that they have found an easy and profitable way to earn money—by working as dancing partners, of afternoons, for rich women in a fashionable New Jersey roadhouse. Bob thinks it isn't a fit way to make a living. His landlady threatens him with eviction for unpaid rent.

As the door slammed behind Mrs. O'Sully, Bob's eyes, full of trouble rested upon the faces of his chums.
"Now you're got to take the job, Bob!" exclaimed Freddy and Arch in unison. "Come on, be a sport. If you don't come, some one else will!"
Bob gulped hard. Pride went down with that gulp—pride and honest conviction. Expediency took a hard fall out of his self-respect; even so, there was a lot of courage and stoutness, in his manner as he said quietly: "Lead me to your damned old inn. Henceforth, I'm a dancing partner for matinee ladies, young and old—at fifty per cent!"
"Now you're talking like an intelligent and sensible college senior, if not a human being, should talk!" chorried Freddy, while Arch, as his outward show of joy at Bob's acceptance of the job, tossed a heavy engineering tome on Bob's head.
This precipitated a rough and

Arch bounced a heavy engineering tome on Bob's head.
tumble shindy, which brought Mrs. O'Sully back into the room post haste with an indignant threat to eject all three boys, bag and book, on grounds of social undesirability, let alone financial.
Mrs. O'Sully was appeased. Then Bob asked a question.
"When do I start on my—err—career as a male butterfly for the delectation of the idle female rich?"
"Right away—pronto—if not sooner," declared Arch. "This afternoon. That's the only time we work. See what a cinch of a job it is! These rich and jazzy dames tell their trusting husbands—who are probably keeping a couple of chorus girls apiece on a string!—that they attend the matinees. Then they skip out to nearby roadhouses and jazz joints, of which our Palisado Inn is a noteworthy example, and dance the afternoons away with young guys like us. Some of the bolder ones go to hotels in town to dance, but the most of them want secrecy, and like the outlying places."
"Where is the place that I—will work?"
"Over on the Palisades. We'll beat it down to 129th street and take the Port Lee ferry. Then it's only a short ride on a bus. But come on now, get a wiggle on, old left tackle, or we'll be late for the 'matinee'. And the red hot manas don't like to wait for their pretty little college boys!"
"Gee—r-r darn!" grunted Bob, disgusted at the sophisticated irony in his chum's description of the job and the people.
CHAPTER II
But now Bob Ward was committed to a job as dancing entertainer. He couldn't hedge. The wolf was too close. His college degree meant more to him than anything else in the world. It was within his grasp. Just a few short weeks of careful study and planning and management. It would be a burning shame if his poverty were to push the sheepskin away from his boning fingers, at this last spurt. Regardless of the cost in humped pride, he must earn enough to keep him clear of debt and disaster until the coveted reward of four long

At Sea

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE GARRETT FOLSON is stabbed to death while swimming at Ocean Town, N. J.

Folsom's bathing companions had been ROGER NEVILLE, a business partner; MRS. HELEN BARNARD and CARMELITA VALDON.

ANASTASIA FOLSON, eccentric and masterful sister of the dead man, takes command. At the inquest it is learned that the death weapon was a pichan, an Oriental knife, and it had been bought on the boardwalk.

It is learned that one CROYDON SEARS is a fancier of curious weapons. He admits buying two knives but not the pichan.

Anastasia engages TITUS RIGGS, an architect, to work on the case. DAN PELTON, the dead man's nephew, arrives and is puzzled by some curious French dolls in Folsom's room.

Croydon Sears sends for FLEMING STONE, famous detective. He tells him Folsom had been blackmailing him and he had fled at the inquest but was innocent.

Stone meets others of the circle, including NED BARRON and his wife, MADELINE, and begins quietly to work. He orders Dan Pelton to produce Folsom's papers and Pelton acts as if he is trying to conceal something.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XL

"HAS any one meddled with these things since you saw them last?" Stone said in a most matter-of-fact tone.

"No," said Pelton, looking up in surprise, but turning red. "Who would do so, and why?"

"I don't know, I'm sure," and Stone turned it off lightly. "Was that suitcase locked?"

"It should have been," and Pelton examined the catch. "But it wasn't. It seems to be a little out of order."

"How about that man of yours?" Stone said, suddenly.

"Ross? He wouldn't touch it, I'm sure."

"Call him in, please," Stone said.

A moment later the imperturbable valet stood before them.

"Just a few questions, my man," Stone said affably, and though Ross looked a little startled, he stood quietly at attention, ready to reply.

"I know you've been through this a dozen times," Stone said pleasantly, "but just once again, please. Where were you when your master, Mr. Folsom, was killed?"

"Here in this room, sir," said Ross, his lips twitching a little with emotion, but otherwise calm.

"Waiting for his return, I'm told."

"Yes, sir."

"Where were you sitting?"

"I wasn't sitting, sir. I stood at the window looking down at the crowds and yet listening for Mr. Folsom's step in the hall."

"I see. You didn't see the commotion attendant on the bringing of Mr. Folsom's body from the water?"

"No, sir. It is not visible from these windows. Or if it is, I didn't see it. If I had I should have

"And you don't care to admit

"I don't know, sir, I'm sure," and Ross showed no embarrassment or even undue interest.

"Yet somebody did so."

"I know nothing of it, sir."

"Nor I!" exclaimed Dan Pelton, unable to keep still longer. "What are you driving at, Mr. Stone? Who said any one came in here and rummaged my things?"

"You said it yourself, though not in so many words," replied Stone, calmly. "Is it not the truth?"

"Truth? That somebody rummaged—nonsense! Of course it is not the truth."

"And you don't care to admit

"I don't know, sir, I'm sure," and Ross showed no embarrassment or even undue interest.

"Yet somebody did so."

"You said it yourself, though not in so many words," replied Stone, calmly. "Is it not the truth?"

"Just a few questions, my man," Stone said affably to Ross.

"Of course, yes. Now, Ross, you have another good master in Mr. Pelton?"

"Yes, sir."

"And he is confidential with you, as Mr. Folsom was?"

"Yes, sir." The man looked at his interlocutor with a mild wonder, as if not understanding the drift, but paying attention to the words.

"When he leaves the room, he doesn't lock up things from you?"

"It is not necessary, sir," and Ross' attitude was that of Caesar's wife at her best.

"No, I'm sure of that. Well then, this evening, while Mr. Pelton was out, who could have come in here and meddled with his belongings?"

"I don't know, sir, I'm sure," and Ross showed no embarrassment or even undue interest.

"Yet somebody did so."

"I know nothing of it, sir."

"Nor I!" exclaimed Dan Pelton, unable to keep still longer. "What are you driving at, Mr. Stone? Who said any one came in here and rummaged my things?"

GARDEN TOOLS

This is addressed to chaps who have the "Borrowing Habit".

Honestly, now, are you a member of that clan? Of course, no man minds lending you a hose or a rake once in a while, but when it gets to the stage where he has to borrow it back again when he wants it, that's a little too much to ask.

Buy a few little pieces of equipment and tools and you'll not need to bother your good neighbor. We can supply you with anything in that line that your heart desires — and charge you darn little for the fine quality of tools you'll get.

HARDWARE

No Medicine

—Could Do This for Her

She was suffering from numerous ailments. Her complexion showed it plainly. Her nerves were on edge. All because nature was unable to dispose of harmful residues. In a very brief time she corrected her condition with Lacto-Dextrin.

Food is nature's greatest medicine. In two sugars, lactose, secured from cow's milk, and dextrine, derived from grains, nature has given us a remarkable means of purifying the system. These carbohydrates, deliciously combined in a refreshing form, encourage the growth of the acidophilus bacteria. These are protective organisms that prevent putrefaction.

At the Battle Creek Sanitarium, Lacto-Dextrin has been used with great success. It's so pleasant to take. And results are always beneficial. Try it and enjoy new life.

Come in today. We are authorized dealers for the famous Battle Creek Health Foods.

Only Powerful Medicine Will End RHEUMATISM

It matters not whether you have had agonizing pains from rheumatism for 20 years, or distressing twitches for 20 weeks, Rheuma while harmless, is strong enough and mighty and powerful enough to drive the rheumatic poisons from your system and abolish all misery or money back.

Rowland's Pharmacy and all druggists sell Rheuma with guarantee of perfect satisfaction or money refunded. A large bottle is inexpensive, and after you take the small dose as directed twice a day for just a few days you should know that at last you have obtained a remedy that does relieve your suffering and will conquer rheumatism.

For over fifteen years Rheuma has been sold and recommended by the best druggists in America. It has released thousands from agony, pain and despair and should do the same for you.

A Raw, Sore Throat

eases quickly when you apply a little Musterole. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain and won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. Brings quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. Jars & Tubes

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! How good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, sniffing, blowing, no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.
